Disclosure

The material presented at the Minnesota Neurosurgical Society 2010 Annual CME Meeting has been made available by the Minnesota Neurosurgical Society and the AANS for educational purposes only. The material is not intended to represent the only, nor necessarily the best, method or procedure appropriate for the medical situations discussed, but rather it is intended to present an approach, view, statement, or opinion of the faculty, which may be helpful to others who face similar situations. All drugs and medical devices used in the United States are administered in accordance with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations. These regulations vary depending on the risks associated with the drug or medical devices compared to products already on the market, and the quality and scope of the clinical data available.

Some drugs and medical devices demonstrated or described on the print publications of the Minnesota Neurosurgical Society have FDA clearance for use for specific purposes or for use only in restricted research settings. The FDA has stated that it is the responsibility of the physician to determine the FDA status of each drug or device he or she wishes to use in compliance with the applicable law.

Faculty Disclosure

Safeguards against commercial bias and disclosure of off-label use have been put in place. In accordance with the Standards for Commercial Support established by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), anyone in a position to control the content of the educational activity (speakers, paper presenters/authors, co-authors, staff, and the significant others of those mentioned), are required to disclose any relationship they have with commercial interests which may be related to the content of their lecture. Failure or refusal to disclose or the inability to satisfactorily resolve the identified conflict may result in the withdrawal of the invitation to participate in any AANS education activities. The ACCME defines "relevant financial relationships" as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 12 months that create a conflict of interest. The ACCME defines a "commercial interest" as any entity producing marketing, re-selling, or distributing healthcare goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. Any potential conflicts of interest will be resolved prior to the program. Faculty will disclose any off-label and/or investigational use of pharmaceuticals or instruments discussed in their presentation. Disclosure of relationships with commercial interests will be published in meeting materials so participants in the activity may formulate their own judgments regarding the presentation.
